Accident West of Rochelle is Fatal to Cicero Citizen

Arrest Follows Crash on U. S. Alternate Rt. 30 Sunday Afternoon

Luciano Benigni, 59, of Cicero, died in the Lincoln hospital at Rochelle Sunday afternoon shortly after 4 o'clock, about 30 minutes after he had been fatally injured in an automobile crash on the Lincoln Highway about two miles west of Rochelle. Guerino Biola, 49, of Berwyn, driver of the car, and Sam Verroni, 56, of Cicero, a third passenger, sustained numerous cuts and bruises but were able to leave the hospital after being treated.

Sgt. George Ives, of the state highway police force, who was dispatched to the scene of the crash, arrested Biola, who was taken to the Rochelle police station, where the officer stated he was held on a charge of transporting liquor with broken seals. The state officer reported that numerous bottles partly filled or empty, found in the wrecked car, indicated that all three men had been drinking heavily.

On Fishing Expedition
Miss Esther Glanmeyer, 16, who resides near the scene of the crash, was about to drive out of the farm entrance onto the highway, when she observed the car approaching from the west. She and four companions were leaving the farm to drive to Rochelle and escaped without serious injury.

Sgt. Ives stated today that Miss Glanmeyer would be charged with operating an automobile without a driver's license.

The three Italians, Sgt. Ives stated, had driven out from the Chicago area to spend the day fishing in Rock river, and were returning home. According to the officer, tracks of the east bound car indicated that it left the paved slab a distance of about 50 feet before the accident, heading directly into the car in which Miss Glanmeyer and four companions were passengers waiting to drive onto the highway.

Nazis Develop New Wrinkle in Defense

A U. S. Fighter Base in England, May 22.—(AP)—The Germans' latest wrinkle in air defense is anti-aircraft guns mounted in freight cars whose sides fold down when train-strafing planes approach.

Lt. John E. Westwood, Lewis, Kan., a Thunderbolt pilot, told of attacking a six-car train northwest of Paris during yesterday's widespread sweeps. As he approached, the right-hand side of the third box car folded down, uncovering four 20-millimeter anti-aircraft guns that immediately opened fire.

They hit Westwood's plane in the tail and engine cowling, but he returned to base with three cylinders missing and holes in the tail. It all happened so quickly, he added, he didn't have time to see whether his own bullets damaged the box car.

THE WAR TODAY

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

The decisive battle of the European war, Berlin declares, will have to be fought on the German west wall defenses of the invasion zone, and "the real attack must come from the supply base and aircraft carrier, England."

This assertion is made with a worried weather eye on the up-and-doing allied offensive in Italy. There the nazis are in a hasty jam, with both flanks of their loudly sung Adolf Hitler line in danger of being turned—on the left wing by the French and on the right by the Americans.

The German appraisal of the general situation—made with the idea of reassuring a jittery home public—isn't exactly accurate, since Hitler will be crushed by concerted allied action from west, south and east. However, it's true in the sense that we can't put the big squeeze on the fuhrer until his formidable fortifications along the invasion coast have been smashed and we have established ashore a great army headed for Berlin.

And an invasion by the western

Peace Terms

London, May 22.—(AP)—Japanese "peace terms" to the United States involving such "demands" as confiscation of the entire American Navy have been published in the Japanese periodical "Meiho", a Berlin broadcast said today.

Other conditions presented: "All expenses arising out of taking over American ships by Japan are to be paid by the United States."

"All large ships of the merchant fleet are to be put at the disposal of Japan."

"All naval installations, naval stations, dockyards, arsenals, colleges and other centers of naval education are to be destroyed."

"In case of the scuttling of a single ship 10 times its value should be paid the Japanese government."

Defense Lawyer in Mass Sedition Trial Talks Himself Out of $200

Washington, May 22.—(AP)—Justice Edward C. Eicher overruled today all defense motions for a mistrial in the mass sedition conspiracy case which moved into its sixth week.

Attorneys for several of the 29 defendants had contended the opening statement of Prosecutor O. John Rogge was inflammatory and designed to "poison the minds of the jury," but Eicher said he had read the transcript carefully over the week-end and concluded that it did not "transcend permissible bounds."

Immediately after Eicher's ruling, defendant Lawrence Dennis resumed the opening statement he began last week, terming free speech as the "only issue" involved in the trial.

Drop Murder Charges Against 11-Year-Old

New York, May 22.—(AP)—Homicide charges against 11-year-old Madeline Kirkland, Negro girl accused of stabbing a schoolmate, Margaret Patton, 9, were dismissed today and Chief Magistrate Henry H. Curran transferred the case to Children's court.

Madeline and another school-Elleen Foster, 12, also a Negro, were taken into custody by police May 9 shortly after Margaret, a Negro, was stabbed fatally with a paper cutter cutter as she stood by a window in a recreation room of a Harlem public school.

Police said Madeline wielded the weapon as Elleen held the other child's arms, and attributed the act to their belief that the younger child had told school authorities they had stolen school supplies.

Elleen was held as a juvenile delinquent. A grand jury did not indict Madeline.

Hummer Plant Back in Operation After Occupation by Army

Soldiers Take Over at Order of President; No Disturbance

Springfield, Ill., May 22.—(AP)—Most early shift war production workers returned to their jobs today at Montgomery Ward's Springfield subsidiary, the Hummer Manufacturing Company plant seized yesterday by the Army on orders from President Roosevelt after it had been strike-bound for 17 days.

Lt. Col. Nelson Talbott, war department representative in charge, said 230 of 240 workers reported for the 7 a. m. shift. Spokesmen for 150 AFL machinists involved said "over 90 per cent—all we could notify last night" of about 325 normally employed on two day shifts agreed to report.

There were no disturbances and John J. Saxer, plant manager, said he and other plant officials were "cooperating to the fullest extent" with a 10-member Army contingent which took possession 16 hours earlier. No additional soldiers reported at the plant today.

J. T. Farr, union business representative, said he had appealed to striking workers by radio and telephone calls to return.

The Hummer plant was the second Montgomery Ward property to

Subjugated People Told Ways to Help Armies of Invasion

BULLETIN
London, May 22.—(AP)—Thousands of passengers missed their trains at London stations today, with blackboards announcing that many schedules had been cancelled without warning.

London, May 22.—(AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's supreme headquarters told the peoples of occupied countries today more ways to help the invasion armies—by providing intimate knowledge about roads, bridges, rivers, woods and possible landing fields.

The broadcast came after a German threat of "terrible and bloody reprisals" against any French patriots who heed Eisenhower's previous call to take up arms and help the invasion forces.

"Consider carefully before you listen to General Eisenhower," said Philippe Henriot, Vichy information minister, in a broadcast in direct answer to Eisenhower's radio statement of Saturday. "The allied invasion is a gamble and its success is a very open question."

Nazi Planes Over Britain
The Germans themselves again sent reconnaissance planes over Britain last night in another of their almost nightly attempts to find clues to the allies' invasion plans. These planes flew over north and northeast Scotland and southeast England. Bombs caused casualties and damage in one Kent town.

"In due course," the allied announcer said, "you will receive advice and instructions from the supreme commander (Eisenhower) himself," who "counts upon you as part of his force now being marshaled to inflict final defeat on the Germans and bring about the final liberation of your countries."

Next Broadcast Tomorrow
This first message to the "army," implying regular broadcasts would be made, said the next one would be on Monday.

"When the allies come to liberate you they will rely on your help in many ways. In no more valuable way can this be given than by information about the enemy," said Eisenhower's spokesman, who called on the underground to note the strength and movements of German troops, tanks and guns, to spot location of supply dumps.

The partisans also were told to be "disciplined and vigilant," to "hide all your actions until the word is given."

Warns of Nazi Gas Attack
Urging every one to care for his gas mask, Field Marshal Birdwood, "father" of the British army, warned that "although Hitler has promised that he will not use gas, he may at the last moment, like a mad and beaten dog, release gas not only on the troops, but on the country as well."

As the forces of attack and defense grided for their decisive test, Nazi propaganda Minister Goebbels appealed in Berlin for "stout nerves, stout hearts and, above all,

Mayor of Paducah, Ky., Pleads Guilty to OPA Rent Violation Charge

Louisville, Ky., May 22.—(AP)—Pleading guilty through his attorney to five counts of OPA rent ceiling violations, Mayor Wayne C. Seaton of Paducah, Ky., was fined $1,000 here today by Federal Judge Shackelford Miller.

An indictment charging that Seaton willfully made a false statement in registering four apartments was dismissed on recommendation of U. S. Attorney Eli H. Brown III.

"This man, who is mayor of Paducah, has pleaded guilty to the overcharge counts in the criminal information," said Brown in his recommendation to the court. "To convict him on a felony charge would vacate the office of mayor in Paducah and I do not believe the circumstances warrant that drastic action."

Brown said that overcharges on the apartments ranged from $5 to $10 a month.

Sporadic Fighting is Reported From Russia

London, May 22.—(AP)—Sporadic fighting was reported along the lower Dnepr river north of Tiraspol over the week-end, but the Russian front remained generally quiet except for continued soviet aerial attacks on communications far behind German lines.

A broadcast Moscow communiqué said Red army troops had slain 600 Germans in repulsing tank-supported enemy attacks in the Tiraspol area.

Communications in Europe's Fortress Targets of Bombers

Allied Aerial Prelude to Invasion Goes Into Eightieth Hour

London, May 22.—(AP)—Flying Fortresses bombed the German submarine center of Kiel and U. S. Liberators pounded German fortifications in the Pas-de-Calais area of France today after a night in which 750 heavy British bombers saturated the major inland nazi port of Duisburg with 2,800 tons of explosives.

The double-barreled daylight blow carried the newest allied aerial prelude to the western invasion past 80 hours of continuous day-night attacks.

Up to 250 Flying Fortresses and the same number of Liberators, each group protected by swarms of American fighters, struck the twin assault.

Hannover, a rail and rubber center, and a German airfield in Belgium, were other British targets of the night.

Thirty British planes were lost in the night attacks. The loss was the greatest sustained by the RAF since May 3, when 49 bombers failed to return from widespread attacks on multiple targets in France and Germany.

Hit at Transportation

In all some 3,000 allied planes, most of them fighters, sprayed nearly every moving piece of nazi transport sighted in western Europe yesterday with cannon and machinegun fire. These fighter sweeps and the RAF night blows dovetailed into the allied strategy, aimed at crippling Germany's movement of troops and supplies to combat the impending invasion from the west.

Fifty-seven British and American planes failed to return from the sweeps, many of them made at speeds of 400-miles-an-hour at tree top levels.

Of the total allied losses, 35 were American fighter planes. These fighter losses constituted a record for one day's operations, the previous high having been 30 on a much smaller sweep April 15.

Twenty German fighters were destroyed in air combat out of the relatively small number of interceptors, the nazis sent up.

Allied fighters shot up more than 300 locomotives, scores of troop carriers and trains, hundreds of canal locks and barges, and scores of grounded enemy planes. They also hit electric power lines and transformers, oil tanks, radio stations, gun emplacements, barracks and even German military staff cars.

The Sunday operations came after a record-breaking assault

Roosevelt to Naval Center for Check-Up

Washington, May (AP)—President Roosevelt will visit the Naval Medical Center in nearby Maryland some time this week for a formal physical check-up to make certain he has thrown off the effects of last winter's flu and bronchial trouble.

Vice Admiral Ross T. McIntire, the president's personal physician, announced after the chief executive's month of rest in the south recently that he would give the president a final check-up even though he appeared to be in excellent shape.

Roosevelt said last week that the examination would take place some time this week.

Loss of Lives, Property and Crops in Iowa Floods Continues to Mount

Des Moines, May 22.—(AP)—Loss of lives, property and crops continued to mount today with scores of Iowans homeless and some communities under water as rivers of the state overflowed their banks. Nine persons had been killed in floods and tornadoes since Thursday.

Two girls, both about 10, drowned in a flooded street in Chelsea, Ia., yesterday as they were playing with three other children. Coroner Harvey Jones said it was believed the girls, Frances Hrabak and Veronica Flynn, were caught in the current of a creek running through the town.

A father and son, Walter Gailery and Walter, Jr., 12, were drowned in the Cedar river at Waterloo when a launch in which they were riding with two other persons went over a dam of the swollen river.

Waters from the Iowa river in east central Iowa submerged farmlands and heavy livestock losses were reported. A farmer south of Belle Plaine reported loss of 25 head of cattle. Chelsea was under water which was waist high at the town's southern edge.

The storms began in the north-west section of the state last Thursday. There was heavy damage from floods and tornadoes at Fort Dodge and company "G" of the state guard was called to active duty there over the weekend.

Invasion Materiel Moving Out of U. S. at Mounting Speed

Washington, May 22.—(AP)—Lend-lease arms and equipment to power a three-way invasion smash at Europe are moving out of this country at a steadily growing speed. President Roosevelt told congress today.

"United Nations forces are now about to strike new and mightier blows at nazi-occupied Europe from offensive bases in the west, the south and the east," the president said as he submitted the 15th report on lend-lease operations.

"They are armed with the most powerful weapons that the combined resources and ingenuity of the United Nations can produce."

Through lend-lease we have made certain that every man in the forces of the other United Na-

Naval Aid

Washington, May 22.—(AP)—The United States—now the owner of the world's largest navy—has leased almost 1,400 naval craft to the British under lend-lease.

They include more than 30 convoy-escort aircraft carriers, destroyer-escorts and merchant ships, a lend-lease report showed today, and are in addition to $200,000,000 worth of landing barges, PT boats and other smaller craft sent to the United Kingdom.

The bigger vessels which sail from American docks under their own power are leased to the allies for the duration of the war. The remains with the United States.

ons who goes into battle beside an American fighting man has what he needs to hit the common enemy as hard as possible."

The report shows $24,225,000,000 of equipment, services and supplies have gone from this country's lend-lease arsenal—nearly three-fourths to Britain and Russia and much of it in recent months.

China is being helped to the utmost of our ability," Roosevelt said. But the report itself shows the supplies being flown into that country—already record-breaking in terms of air transport—are only a trickle against the flood of equipment being massed before the nazi front.

Aid to United Kingdom
More than $1,000,000,000 in planes and parts, a like amount of guns and ammunition and almost that value in tanks and war vehicles have gone to the United Kingdom—three-fourths of them in the past year. British bombers are dumping American-made charges on Germany and American fighters roar up from the decks of British carriers.

In the first 60 days of 1944, the report shows, more than 2,100

Forced to Give Up Line in Terracina by Enemy Reserves

Losses of Allies in Italian Campaign "Considerable"

Allied Headquarters, Naples, May 22.—American troops have seized three mountains northeast of Terracina, but advanced patrols who pushed into that coastal anchor city itself only 24 miles from the Anzio beachhead have withdrawn, headquarters announced tonight.

The German high command has thrown all its reserves into a desperate effort to halt the allied drive toward Rome, headquarters declared, but the allied armies smashed ahead again today all along the front.

U. S. troops entered Terracina, sea bastion of the nazis' third defense wall in southern Italy, after a nine-mile advance along the coast, but later pulled back.

At last reports, U. S. forces had established a line three miles northwest of Terracina. The Americans were pushing farther into the hills on the Terracina-Pico line despite intense opposition. Northeast of Terracina they took Monte Marino, Monte Autone, and Monte Capicchio.

Further inland, French troops closed in on Pico in the center of the line and elsewhere made progress.

No Nazi Reserves Handy
Seventeen German divisions, some of them badly mauled in the fighting of the last ten days, now are committed on the main and Anzio beachhead fronts, and the nazis have no reserves left south of Rome, headquarters declared.

On the northern flank, Poles entered the bastion of Piedmonte on the northern edge of the Liri valley, and the Eighth Army was laying siege to Pontecorvo on the lower side of the valley.

The Germans rushed reinforcements from the north into the sagging coastal line sector against the Americans, and Lt. Gen. Mark-W. Clark's troops quickly captured 100 prisoners from them.

Headquarters declared the Germans now have 17 divisions committed against the main offensive and the Anzio beachhead, and have "nothing left in reserve south of Rome."

French troops toward the center took, lost, and then recaptured today Monte Leucio west of Pico on the road from Pontecorvo. Canadians penetrated the Hitler Line northeast of Pontecorvo, on the lower edge of the Liri valley, piercing barbed wire entanglements, headquarters said.

Allied Losses "Considerable"
The first troops to push into Terracina—only 24 miles across the Pontine marshes from the Anzio beachhead—had reported only light German rear-guard resistance.

On the beachhead itself, U. S. patrols pushed out five miles from the right flank of the perimeter in a daring stab, and the Germans reacted with a sharp counterattack southwest of Cisterna.

Expect Churchill To Bare Post-War Scheme This Week

London, May 22—(AP)—Prime Minister Churchill may lay before commons this week his plans and hopes for world security and a peaceful peace, in a prelude to a psychological shift aimed particularly at the enemy in occupied countries.

And—long, hard years after the day of his "blood, sweat, and tears" cry of defiance—Britain's prime minister is expected to repeat in effect those faithful words, this time not to temper British hearts for the uphill struggle, but to remind the confident that a high price still must be paid for victory.

It is likely, too, that he will weave into the foreign policy address an outline of the empire's structure, newly strengthened by the conference of its prime ministers, and review the economic war fare accomplishments in cutting down aid to the nazis had been receiving from neutrals.

Critics to Be Answered

His statement, opening a foreign policy debate, will be offered as an answer to criticism from some quarters—similar to that frequently directed at the state department in Washington—that the British lack a long range pattern for dealing with other nations. The task apparently leaves him a choice of describing formulae or of defending the lack of an announced program by discussing difficulties of operating under any fixed pattern during war time.

Interest in diplomatic quarters, however, was pin-pointed upon the possibility that Churchill will chart the course of political and economic collaboration after victory, and give a hint of terms for Germany upon which the European advisory commission has been working.

They are subjects which have been getting increased attention, particularly among the governments of exiled countries, since indications are mounting that a conference will be held soon among Russia, Britain, and the United States on world organization.

League Scheme Drafted

It is known that the British plan, although not hard and fast, was unfolded for the prime minister's conference and won their approval. It is understood that it resembles the old League of Nations in many respects but provides for military strength to back up its mandates.

Several of the "little nations" would like ground-floor participation in the organization, or at very least more detailed information on what the big three are planning to do for and to them.

Thus Churchill may direct a considerable part of his message to instilling in the peoples of occupied lands fresh confidence in the future at a time when their aid for the invasion is being counted upon by the allies.

Churchill may also defend the compromise agreement with Spain, report on diplomatic developments in efforts to end fraternal strife in Greece and Yugoslavia, and explain Britain's policy of dealing with neutral nations on an individual basis, as contrasted with American reluctance to compromise with any one doing business with Hitler.

Third Wettest April—Springfield, Ill., May 22—(AP)—Last month's average rainfall of 6.50 inches made it the third wettest April for the state, ranking behind only 1893 and 1927. The weather bureau has reported. The mean temperature of 50.4 degrees was two below normal. Heavy precipitation delayed spring farm work two to four weeks but favored winter wheat in unflooded areas, and alfalfa and clover. Freezing temperatures caused some fruit damage but prospects continued fair to good.

swift nine-mile American advance on the west coast.

The Americans in the coastal sector, in addition to reaching Terracina, were reported at both the town and mountain named Monte San Biagio, a mile off the Appian Way and five miles west of Fondi, in the mountain pass where the enemy originally was expected to try to establish the southern hinge of a new defense line.

60 Air Miles from Rome

At Terracina, which represents a gain of as much as 25 miles from some of the jumping-off places of the offensive, the Fifth Army was less than 60 air miles from Rome and more than half way along the road to the Eternal City from Naples.

Resistance was fading in face of the Fifth Army's unrelenting blows at the southern flank of the Liri valley defenses, and a headquarters staff officer said the enemy was abandoning positions within the Hitler line to escape annihilation.

The total of the prisoners taken since the offensive was launched has now gone well beyond 6,000, and the number increased hourly as mopping up continued in the newly-conquered areas and defenses fell one by one.

Nazis Shift Forces

The German high command was reported shifting fresh troops across Italy from the Adriatic sector, at the same time swing other units from the south to bolster resistance in the Pico area, where a continued allied thrust northward would threaten to envelop and destroy the bulk of the forces in the whole Pontecorvo-Aquino zone of the Hitler line.

Bad weather in the target areas caused cancellation of heavy bomber flights from Italian bases, but medium and light fighter bombers blasted communications behind enemy lines and RAF Wellingtons early today bombed the harbors of Portoferraio and Piombino, terminals of the Elba-Mainland ferry.

An enemy air attempt to raid the allied positions was brought to disaster by an RAF Spitfire squadron. The Spitfires intercepted 20 bomb-carrying FW-190's north of Anzio with ME-109's escorting. The British shot down eight of the FW-109's.

WLB May Reveal Detailed Scheme for Autos in July

Washington, D. C.—(AP)—The war production board has told producers of automobile parts that by late July it may be ready to announce detailed plans for partial resumption of civilian passenger car manufacture. John H. Middlekamp, director WPB automotive division, said the first cars to be built probably would be 1942 models "with modifications."

(WPB Chairman Nelson some weeks ago notified automobile manufacturers he saw no chance of resuming passenger car production this year. WPE has indicated, however, that it will permit partial conversion soon after the fall of either Germany or Japan.)

Discuss Initial Quota

First step in planning a limited return to motor car production must be a decision on the number to be made and the allocation of shares in the production job among the nine pre-war manufacturers, Middlekamp said. He suggested 2 million cars as the initial civilian program.

WPB said members of the automotive original equipment parts industry advisory committee, who met in Washington yesterday, had said they could not estimate their ability to take part in partial resumption of passenger car production until they had received tentative orders designating specific quantities and parts.

One manufacturer estimated he would be able to resume production at 50 per cent of his peacetime rate if only 10 per cent of his present war contracts were cancelled. If WPB did an adequate job of advance planning for reconversion, this producer said, it would take 10 weeks to get back into production at half the peacetime rate and 14 weeks to restore full peacetime production. Without preliminary planning it would take 14 weeks to attain 50 per cent production and 20 weeks to reach 100 per cent, he estimated.

Ask for Termination Plans

The manufacturers agreed it was important they be furnished as soon as possible with army and navy plans for terminating or curtailing production programs, WPB said. Charles E. Wilson, WPB executive vice chairman, promised the group that every effort would be made to provide such information as far ahead as possible.

WPB said industry spokesmen disagreed on whether the lag between war and peace-time production could best be filled by unrestricted manufacture of repair parts for cars now on the road, or by fixing a program for a partial resumption of new car manufacture. Most of the manufacturers preferred unrestricted part production, holding that parts so produced would provide a useful reserve even if they were not sold immediately for replacement purposes.

lend-lease planes, almost 2,000 tanks and over 60,000 other military vehicles, were sent to our allies, the bulk of them to invasion dumps.

Nearly $4,750,000,000 in lend-lease aid has gone to Russia, two-thirds of it in the past year. Up to March, 1944, we had sent Russia 8,890 fighters and bombers, 10,000 military trucks, 36,000 jeeps, 5,200 tanks and tank destroyers and 30,000 other military vehicles.

The report showed a mounting total of reverse lend-lease. Emphasizing the pooling of allied fighting equipment, it said:

"In proportion to their available resources our principal allies are putting into this war fully as much as we are, including lend-lease aid."

Here is the report's breakdown of lend-lease: To the United Kingdom, 42.5 per cent; Russia, 27.6 per cent; Africa, Middle East and Mediterranean, 14.4 per cent; China, India, Australia and New Zealand, 11.2 per cent; Latin America, 0.8 per cent; all other areas, 3.5 per cent.

In the Pacific and Far East almost $2,000,000,000 worth of lend-lease have been poured into the fight against Japan.

Order Curtailing Poultry Program Considered Likely

Washington, May 22—(AP)—Faced with the possibility that feed bins in many sections of the country may run dry before this year's crops are harvested, the War Food Administration may take positive action soon to curtail the hatching of chicks and the starting of commercial broilers during June, July and August.

It also may ask farmers to produce fewer pigs this fall than previously recommended under a 1944 food production program, and to inaugurate immediately a dairy cattle culling program.

Walter C. Berger, chief of the livestock and feed branch of the WFA's office of production, described the feed supply situation as "acute" in an interview. Reserves of livestock feed held at the beginning of the war have been used up in a livestock expansion program, and now it is necessary, he said, to make rather drastic adjustments to lower feed supply levels.

Berger is recommending that chicken hatcheries close down during June, July and August, that producers of commercial broilers start new broilers during those months and that laying flocks be reduced 27 per cent between now and August. It may be necessary, he said, for the WFA to issue orders requiring such curtailment.

committee chairman, said the WLB order also would have provided a four cent hourly wage increase for most workers, seniority rights and arbitration of piece work rates.

Maj. A. H. Raskin, Army public relations officer, said under the April 11 WLB order, wage rates, with the general four cents an hour boost, would have ranged from 60 cents to $1.21 an hour. The WLB approved scale will be paid under government operation, he added.

The Hummer plant and Montgomery Ward declined immediate comment. Sewell Avery, chairman of the parent company, was reported en route to Washington where hearings began today before a house committee investigating the recent seizure of Ward's Chicago properties.

Seized Without Incident

Seizure of the Hummer plant was accomplished without incident.

Col. Talbott said about 25 employees were assigned to temporary work because some airplane subcontract machinery they formerly had operated had been shipped or packed for shipment out of the Hummer plant. Otherwise, he said, full operations have been resumed.

Two Montgomery Ward officials from Chicago arrived at the plant soon after it opened and entered a conference with Col. Talbott. They were H. B. Pearson, vice-president and treasurer, and H. C. Anderson, general manager of Montgomery Ward Factories.

Smaller War Plants Corporation Calls Meet at Freeport

The subject of War Contract Termination will be discussed at a meeting to be held at 1:30 p. m., May 25, in the auditorium of the Illinois Northern Utility Office, in Freeport. This meeting is being arranged under the auspices of the Smaller War Plants Corporation and the Freeport Chamber of Commerce.

Arrangements to bring Harold E. Atchison, Deputy Regional Director of Smaller War Plants in Chicago, to Freeport for this meeting were completed yesterday by C. F. Ogden, secretary of the Freeport Chamber of Commerce, and Walter S. Craig, SWPC district manager.

Mr. Atchison recently completed the government school on War Contract Terminations given by the Army Industrial College for military personnel and 14 SWPC executives. Mr. Atchison will discuss the necessary procedures a manufacturer must take if a war contract is suddenly terminated. A discussion period will follow the lecture.

Others Invited

Manufacturers from surrounding cities are invited and some will be accompanied by their accountants and legal advisers.

"It would be worth their while if every manufacturer in northwestern Illinois would attend this meeting, whether a prime or a subcontractor," said Craig. "Unless you have definite knowledge of the steps to take both before and after contract termination occurs, serious financial loss and business disorganization are certain to result. You must thoroughly understand the rules of negotiated settlement—the key to quick termination payments. Do you know how to go about obtaining a special loan as insurance against termination loss? You will want to become familiar with the procedure of disposing of inventories and other property under termination; also how to deal with your sub-contractors and suppliers; how you should organize your accounting procedures for terminations, and many other procedure problems."

Rockford manufacturers attended a large meeting last week at which Mr. Atchison discussed the subject of Contract Termination. Dixon and Freeport manufacturers asked for a similar meeting to be held in their district.

KING ISSUES WARNING

Washington, May 22—(AP)—Admiral Ernest J. King, commander of the United States Fleet, promises an assault on Hitler's European fortress "in what promises to be the most formidable military undertaking in history," but warns against a public tendency to believe the end of the war is in sight.

King, in an address here yesterday, said over-confidence now "will do an injustice to those who are about to go into battle," and declared there was "little justification" for believing Germany and Japan were near collapse.

"In the Pacific," he said, "vast operations are pending, for despite recent advances, we are still far from the citadel of Japan which must be breached before the war is won."

allies would be long in knocking out the Germans if the Russian armies weren't hammering the enemy on the eastern front. There must be pressure on both sides.

Berlin is right in saying that England is the logical base and "aircraft carrier" for invasion. It's by far the nearest of all feasible bases for the direct invasion route into western Europe. That's why the allies are preparing to hit straight into the toughest defenses there are.

While the Gustav Line, the Adolf Hitler Line and the various other German defenses have been plenty tough, they haven't shown the strength which may be expected in the west wall in France, according to accounts made public by the allied high command the other day. Also we mustn't forget that the greatest danger to the allies on D-Day will lie in battling their way ashore from the sea. The invasion will provide a brand new type of hell for military history.

At the moment Italy is giving the nazis plenty of concern. One of their great worries is that the allies in the Anzio beachhead may launch an offensive in the rear of the hard-hit German right wing on the coast.

Anzio is indeed a good spot to keep an eye on.

Diesel-Propelled Trains for Short Runs After Peace

A new type suburban passenger train using Diesel-electric power has been designed by the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company, Pittsburgh, for post-war use, the company disclosed yesterday. The train consists of three articulated cars, or interlocking sections, with the first and last units carrying passengers and the middle containing the power machinery.

The company said the new type train will "provide swifter, roomier, and quieter service for post-war commuters." It gave no details as to the number of passengers it will carry, horse power of the engines, and its actual speed.

Chicago Interest Aroused

The Westinghouse announcement aroused interest in Chicago where there have been few improvements in suburban train service for years. An exception is the Illinois Central's overhead electric operation which is rated one of the nation's finest suburban services.

A. H. Candee, transportation engineer with the Westinghouse company, designed the train, which will have operator's cabs at each end. The power unit of Diesel engine, electric generator, and control equipment will be enclosed in a "virtually soundproof compartment." A walled passageway around the engine will permit passengers to move from one car to another.

Among the advantages claimed is the power plant which will be situated so that it can be lifted easily from the power car and another substituted. Thus the train need not be kept out of service long even if an engine should break down.

Power from Accessories

"Power from the unit can be drawn from the power plant as it is needed," Candee said. "This means that besides driving the train, the power unit can supply all the electricity that is necessary for air conditioning, lighting, air cleaning, water coolers, and other electrical conveniences."

In addition, the power supply is increased in direct proportion to the number of three cars units that are coupled, since each unit contains its own power plant. As a result a train can travel at the same fast speed no matter how many cars are in the train. This can never be duplicated by a locomotive-hauled train."

Trans of the Westinghouse type will make it possible to move in and out of such terminals as the Union station, North Western station and other Chicago stations without the necessity for backing the trains up and turning them around in complicated switch operations. Candee estimated that it takes eight separate switching operations to make an inbound train ready for an outbound run from a terminal.

Many Cars Adaptable

Candee said many passenger cars now in use could be adapted for use in the new train. However, most cars used in suburban service by the Chicago railroads were built many years ago and would not be suitable. It was said that flexible units of the type designed by Westinghouse would provide better operation if they were built of the new strong metals which make possible savings in weight.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere appreciation to all for the many acts of kindness and messages of sympathy received in our recent bereavement.

Marcus Island, 1,190 miles southeast of Tokyo, was heavily attacked Saturday and Sunday by a carrier-borne force, a Japanese broadcast disclosed today. The worried enemy, added Berlin radio, sounded air raid alarms throughout north and east Japan.

"Enemy naval units," presumably Pacific Fleet ships under command of Adm. Chester W. Nimitz, approached from the east and launched a two-day aerial blow against the small but strategically situated island. A Tokyo broadcast added that 32 raiding planes were shot down.

The broadcast was the first word of such a strike—first against Marcus since Sept. 7, last year—and recalled that the Japanese were the first to disclose last week's carrier raid against Soerabaya, Java.

The island is some 700 miles east of the Japanese-held Bonin islands, 700 miles northwest of Wake and almost midway between Tokyo and the Marshalls.

In last September's heavy raid, 80 per cent of Marcus' military installations, according to Nimitz's estimate, were destroyed. It worried Tokyo enough to force the broadcast admission then: "The enemy could have raided the mainland if he wanted to."

400 Miles from Mainland

Tokyo was approached from still another direction, and much closer than Marcus island. A Liberator bomber Thursday struck at Shimushiri, a Kurile island 400 miles from Nippon's main islands, thus achieving the closest approach yet of any land-based allied plane to the enemy capital.

Other airmen under Nimitz's command also bombed Nauru island and enemy-held Marshall bases.

Pratas island, 190 miles southeast of Hong-Kong, on the China coast, likewise was bombed, the targets being a radio station, shipping and buildings. The island is 275 miles from the Philippines.

The most important land fighting of the Pacific war centered in the seemingly-innocent victory of Lt. Gen Joseph W. Stilwell over the enemy defending Myittha in northern Burma. The Japanese were boxed in on three sides and appeared on the verge of collapse. Myittha is vital to control of the Burma Road.

Chunckung said its forces had achieved successfully their initial objectives in crossing the Salween river toward a junction with Stilwell's forces.

The Chinese still held Loyang in Honan province and inconclusive fighting continued in the Imphal-Kohima sector of eastern India.

In the Southwest Pacific Americans cinched complete control of Wake island and turned back counterattacks on the flank of New Guinea mainland.

HEARING BEGINS

Washington, May 22—(AP)—William H. Davis, chairman of the War Labor Board, told a special house committee today his agency had to act in the Montgomery Ward labor dispute or admit that 15,000,000 people in various industries "would be free to strike."

Davis, first witness in the house investigation of the mail order plant seizure in Chicago last month, asserted that the WLB tends to step in wherever there is a work stoppage until congress "tells us clearly" that there are segments of the national economy that are not concerned with the war.

Representative Dewey (R-Ill.) sponsored the investigation on the theory that the Ward mail order plant should not have been seized because it is not a direct war production concern.

Davis said the only way to have an effective no-strike policy is "to have all strikes and lockouts in the WLB as the forum for settling all disputes."

Board's Opinion

"It is our opinion," Davis declared, "that failure or refusal of the government in time of war to furnish transportation services in activities directly related to the successful prosecution of the war." If it should be decided that Montgomery Ward is not subject to the no-strike pledge, Davis said, all the employees in distribution, wholesaler and retail services would have on obligation to remain on the job either.

Such a situation, he said, "would lead finally to a complete disintegration of the existing machinery set up by congress to preserve industrial peace."

Davis said he thought the Smith-Connally Labor Disputes Act provided adequately for all emergencies, adding that if he is mistaken then in his opinion there ought to be a new law.

It was the WLB which cited the Ward Company to President Roosevelt for refusal to carry out its strike settlement orders. Army seizure of the plant and ejection of Sewell Avery, Ward head, followed.

Davis said Ward's operations in 47 states and employs 75,000 persons. He said it was one of two big mail order houses supplying 33 per cent of all farmers' dry goods needs, more than 20 per cent of their motorized equipment, 26 per cent of their automobile accessories and 25 per cent of their paint requirements.

"I should not think," the WLB chairman testified "there would be any doubt that a company which fills these needs of the American farm population is a major factor in the national wartime economy."

Davis emphasized "if you've got a significant strike—I mean one significant in numbers and publicity—you've got to stop it, because the people just can't tell the difference between a permitted and a prohibited strike."

Davis said that anybody who doesn't support the no-strike, no-lockouts program "is doing less than his duty to his country. I don't care whether he's on the labor side or the industry side. He's not a good citizen."

Instruction in How to Use a Pressure Canner Is Offered Housewives

When preserving fresh vegetables, fruits and other items for American wartime tables so important, a better course could not be offered at a more opportune time than the one that is being announced at this time.

The Rural War Production Training program has approved the financing of a class for instruction in the usage of pressure cookers for Dixon women. It will be necessary to have an enrollment of 15 women within the next few days in order to arrange for this type of work for the preserving of green peas.

The class can meet in Dixon high school for a course that will total 24 hours, and ample amounts of several kinds of vegetables can be preserved by each member to assure her that she can use her own cooker successfully in this time.

George F. Reed of Dixon high school wishes to hear of local interest on this matter, inasmuch as a course of this kind cannot be offered until there is an enrollment large enough to justify the expenditures necessary to start a class.

Corps of Workers-Begin Readyding Camp Ralston

George Lindquist with a corps of his workers—altogether 35 Scouts, their parents and friends—were busy workers yesterday at Camp Ralston, beginning the first work on making the camp ready for the Girl Scout summer camping season.

The first coat of stain on the lodge shingles was started by some of the Scouts, and the "frog pond," so-called by the girls themselves, is being drained. Following the day's activities at the camp a picnic supper was enjoyed by the workers.

Starting this week, the Girl Scout office will be open on Saturday instead of on Thursday, announces Mrs. John Malay, acting executive secretary. This schedule of Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday office hours, will prevail until summer camp begins. The hours the office will be open will be from 1 until 4 o'clock in the afternoon. The opening of the office on Saturdays is to afford school girls the opportunity for registration and to inquire about the summer program.

All Council members are visiting this week with troops of the city to discuss the summer camping program and to distribute the camp folders.

Wallace's Trip to Orient Is Assuming Political Aspects

Washington, May 22—(AP)—Vice President Wallace's trip to Siberia and China took on new political aspects today with a growing feeling among some of his possible opponents that the incumbent already has been chosen by President Roosevelt for second place on the 1944 Democratic ticket.

One of several members of congress who have been mentioned frequently for the vice presidential nomination told a reporter he is now convinced that Roosevelt intends to be a candidate again and will say the word in time which will place Wallace on the ticket with him.

Wallace left Saturday for Siberia and China to get what Roosevelt said was likely to be a valuable first hand report on conditions in Asia. He called Wallace well qualified for such a mission "because of his present position as well as his training in economics and agriculture". The announcement said specifically that Wallace would be back by the middle of July, which would be a few days before the Democratic convention opens in Chicago July 19.

Politicians, taking note of the fact that the president had emphasized Wallace's present position and past training, thought it unlikely that Roosevelt would throw overboard only a few days after his return an official he had sent on an important mission to one of the war's most critical fronts.

That, they said, could only be accepted as an affront by the Chinese and Russian officials with whom he had been conferring as the president's right hand man.

Chungking, May 22—(AP)—Chinese newspapers united today in assuring Vice President Wallace of the United States the heartiest welcome to China and hailed his statement that nothing would stop America from bringing this nation "all possible and prompt aid".

Watermelon Prices to Be Sharply Reduced

Washington, May 22—(AP)—Watermelon prices will be sharply reduced this summer "from last season's inflated prices", the Office of Price Administration announced today.

The agency said ceilings will be fixed shortly for country shippers and wholesalers reflecting a parity return to growers on their season's output. The savings will be passed on to householders by fixed retail mark-ups which in turn will be translated to dollars-and-cents ceilings for each community.

Communists Complete Party Organization

New York, May 22—(AP)—Communists complete organization today of a non-partisan association to carry out a new role in American politics.

The newly-formed Communist Political Association will act independently in supporting candidates for public office, replacing the dissolved Communist party which ran candidates of its own.

Officers of the new group will be elected late today, the third day of a four-day national convention. The first action of the new organization was to back President Roosevelt for re-election.

A memorial service was held with Belvidere furnishing the color team and new officers were elected. President is Mrs. Clinton Spockman; senior vice president, Mrs. Anton Peterson; junior vice president, Mrs. Hugh Cruise; chaplain, Mrs. Leslie Remour; conductress, Mrs. John Thomas; treasurer, Mrs. Elwood Cruise; guard, Mrs. William Armbruster; trustees Mrs. Fred Allai, Harold Janssen and Aedon Johnson.

After election of officers they were installed by Mrs. Orpha Cruise, 6th district president. The past president, Mrs. Johnson, presented gifts to her officers, and the newly-elected president gave gifts to the color teams and conductress. Mrs. Allai presented Mrs. Johnson with her past president jewel.

Refreshments were served by the ladies of the Dixon auxiliary. The 6th district meeting will be held at Freeport on Sunday, June 4, at 2 o'clock.

A Thought for Today

But the meek shall inherit
the earth; and shall delight
themselves in the abundance of peace.—Psalm 37:11.Nothing can bring you
peace but yourself.—Emerson.

The Peoria Plan

The city of Peoria, Ill., has launched a community program
that seems worth noting and copying elsewhere. It is a plan for rehabilitating and re-employing handicapped war veterans, and it has wisely been perfected before
for it.The Peoria Plan started with the known fact that there are many jobs which partially disabled persons can perform efficiently. The planners asked industries and businessmen to survey such job opportunities. Then the whole community pitched in and helped.
Medical, religious, fraternal and service organizations gave aid and
advice in perfecting the program;
local newspapers, radio stations
and movie houses focused public attention on it.And Peoria called on district
representatives of federal agencies
for help. They knew that their efforts should tie in with legislation
and plans for veterans now under way in Washington. But they also knew that the final job must be done at what "bureaucracy calls
the 'local level'."In the case of handicapped men,
the Veterans' Administration will see to it that they learn new skills,
if necessary, in preparation for readjustment. But the government cannot do all. The Peoria planners decided that "delay is dangerous and demoralizing," and that their prime objective was to "conserve the greatest of all American assets—useful and self-
respecting human beings."It became a city-wide concern that handicapped veterans should
resume their places in community
life quickly, not as objects of pity
or charity, but as normal citizens
capable of making their own way
in a worthwhile job. It will be difficult enough at best for wounded veterans to return home as different men from those who left
it. But surely such a program as this will greatly lessen the psychic
shock of disability or disfigurement.Such a plan as this is worth thinking about in other towns and cities. Concern for the returning veteran is a shining national exception to the domestic disagreement inevitable in this election year. Plans for service men, both sound and handicapped, are under way from Capitol Hill to the smallest crossroads town. These plans are a decent expression of gratitude and of a determination that victorious soldiers and sailors shall not come back to disillusionment and depression.Incidentally, they are among the more hopeful antidotes for "peace
jitters."Fair Enough
by
WESTBROOK PEGLERNew York—If the war labor situation is as grave as Mr. Forrestal, secretary of the Navy, and Robert Patterson, undersecretary of war, say it is—and Mr. Stimson already has used the word "anarchy" in this connection—then,
plainly, the country has been deceived by the national government.Forrestal and Patterson spoke strongly before the senate military affairs committee in favor of a labor draft law for war industries. Mr. Stimson favors one, too,
and Donald Nelson, chairman of the War Production Board, appearing with Forrestal and Patterson, said there was now a deperate shortage of men in "foundries which are producing weapons."It is important to note that these men are not in politics or concerned with unionism, one way or another. Forrestal has had an interesting personal experience in that his wife was held up and robbed of jewelry a few years ago
by a New York mob which included
a union official who had the ef-
rontery to try to levy his subjects
for a fund to pay for his appeal.
However, none of the men who are thus directly and solely engaged in such duties has ever expressed
an attitude on the closed shop,
the union security or the maintenance of membership issues. They just say they need more industrial manpower than they are getting,
and hold that the only safe solution is a labor draft.President Roosevelt also has proposed a labor draft but with provisions which were obviously inserted with an eye to the political campaign, and Mrs. Roosevelt has taken such a serious view of the labor shortage that she has suggested a draft of women as well
as men.Not being in politics, Stimson, Forrestal, Patterson, Nelson and others who have asked for a labor
draft have ignored the question whether men so drafted should have to join unions and, in most cases, under coercion, contribute to the Democratic party's campaign fund. They surely have their opinions and considering their background, it may be assumed that they are against such compulsion. The president has said nothing on the subject.Yet objection to compulsory union membership for drafted labor is the most serious obstacle
in the way of the proposal in the popular mind. Nowadays, even discharged service men are beginning to report resentfully that having served their country in a horrible war, they find that their right to work for its preservation
is subject to a political tax for the campaign fund of the party in power—and for private organizations having, on the whole, a bad
record of lawlessness.In Washington, Thursday, Mr.
Patterson told the senators that the rate of strikes had been abnormal in 1943 when there were more than 5,000 of them, and was continuing high. On the other hand, the president, in his lecture
to the press on the Montgomery
Ward case a few days ago, said
that the total percentage of strikes
had been on the whole, low, which is a statement so vague as to bealmost without meaning. But it certainly does not mean that the percentage, or rate, has been ab-
normally high; and in this conflict
of statements someone is either exaggerating, or minimizing. Patterson has no political motive to serve by exaggeration.There is further strong objection to the labor draft from the union bosses of all three important groups with the exception of the Communists of the CIO. The Communists are for it. However, the
A. F. of L. and the non-Communist elements of the CIO are against the draft for a number of reasons.
Some of them not plainly stated
but concealed. Their chief statement of objection is strangely idealistic,
coming from men who use compulsion constantly. They say the labor draft would institute involuntary servitude, meaning slavery.
Their strongest reason, however,
is that they fear that the labor
draft would bring a showdown on the question of compulsory membership, campaign contributions
and other taxes for private organizations; and that, in the showdown, the people would win, which would be a great blow to their cherished closed shop and its variations.Is the strike rate abnormally
high or is the "percentage" on the whole, low? If it is abnormally
high then the president was incorrect and the famous no-strike
pledge of the A. F. of L. and CIO has been flouted so often that the privileges granted to the unions
in consideration of that pledge
have been forfeited.

Marjorie Burrow Kellar was born Aug. 17, 1915 at Jancerville, Wis. When she was five years old her mother, Mrs. Eslette Burrow, passed away, after which Marjorie made her home with her grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Edward Antoine in Amboy. She attended the Congregational church in Amboy.She was united in marriage to Frank Kellar on June 1, 1940, and to this union one son, Gene Edward was born. After an illness of three years duration she passed away May 16, 1944, at her home.She is survived by her husband, Frank; her son, Gene Edward; her father, Charles Burrow; her maternal grandfather Edward Antoine,
and an aunt, Nina Antoine.WITH OUR SYMPATHY
THE HIGGINS FAMILYShe is gone—a friend—a mother—a wife
She has laid down her burdens for a better life.Round her grave our tears will fall
We will miss her tender voice, she has left us all her pain.No Marge we won't forget you as you were so kind and true
While you are up there in Heaven, on earth we will think of you.We know your "burdens here" on earth grew more heavy every day
But now we know you understand
God has a better way.Although we'll need your guiding
now that you are gone
With loved one you'll be more happy with that Heavenly throne.So good bye up there in glory, as some day we hope to be
With you up there in glory in that eternity.
VernCourtright alone. But he had watched her. He was extremely puzzled about Courtright. He was also worried. He resolved to keep an eye on her.TILDA COURTRIGHT went to her room. She discovered that she was to occupy a room with Norma. She suggested that she occupy another room, giving the excuse that she snored.Even after she was in a room by herself, Courtright did not undress.
She made no effort to sleep. She would have fought sleep, except that it was no problem for her to stay awake. She could not have sleep.She did pull the tuton, the thickly wadded quilt, over her.
Not because the night air was cold,
but in case anyone should look in on her. It wasn't modesty; she merely didn't want anyone to know she still wore all her clothes.
She was very glad she had taken the precaution, because Norma
came in to tell her good night.
"Wait, dear," Courtright said. "Has Link said anything strange about me?""No, he hasn't," Norma answered. "Earlier in the evening,
he did ask what was wrong with
you. I told him you were just scared, like the rest of us.""Good night, dear," Courtright said. "And try not to worry. Try to sleep."Norma returned to her room.
Courtright turned over on her side.
She pressed her ear against the padded wooden block which served as a pillow. In this way, through the vibrations in the floor, Cour-tright could hear when anyone
moved about in the inn.Later, through the padded
wooden pillow, she heard footsteps. She knew this would be Captain Azaraski, creeping outside.Courtright got up herself. Her bare feet felt a silent war across the mats to the door. She went out into the night. The clouds had thickened in the sky, and it was quite dark.She was supposed to meet Azaraski outside tonight.

BEHIND
THE NEWS
By PAUL MALLON(Distributed by King Features Syndicate. Reproduction in whole or in part strictly prohibited.)Washington.—The final destruction of the intellectual position of the progressive education
trust has been accomplished by the Birmingham, Alabama, Teachers'
Association Bulletin.What happened there is a typical example applicable in varying degrees to the rest of the country.The trust crowd apparently was powerful and dominant and went after me roughly for my persistent proofs that they had broken down discipline and scholarship in the schools and weakened the country intellectually
with their disregard of facts and figures, education, and their
"greater-freedom-for-pupils" system.An assistant superintendent, Theodore R. Wright, went before a First Methodist church forum
with the most preposterous conceivable accusations against me
—although I received my fundamental education in his elementary schools there thirty odd years ago. He went to the right place to make such scurrilous
and pitiful defense of his new system, because the crime of progressive education is equally great against all churches, and all religion.You cannot teach free-running
children to practice self-indulgence in the schools, and expect them to be good Methodists or good anything. The theories of self-indulgence and religious self-discipline are incompatible. I will handle him and his kind later—in detail.They turned my newspaper
there against me with deceptions.
A local columnist named Feid-son wrote that I was a rather despicable, person anyway because I was against the new deal (presumably the one Roosevelt announced was dead many months ago). One editorial writer twisted my remarks to make it appear I was against the teachers, trying to get the teachers to turn against me. Although the newspaper has published my column page one, column one for 12 years, the editors were forced or induced to remove it to an inside page, as if to let the trust
say:"That will finish you, young fellow."Do you recognize these tactics?
They are the common practices
of villainy, the corrupt tactics of political machines, the kind of intellectual dishonesty you hardly expect of men assigned to teach truth and honor to the children of the nation.But they are also signs of weakness. If they had any sound ground on which to stand,
they would have displayed it, yet
not a single inclination for honest denial of my facts appeared.After all that campaign, the Birmingham Teachers Association
Bulletin has just completed a poll of teachers there on the question:"Do you in general agree with the Paul Mallon articles on education that have recently been appearing in the daily press?"Every tenth teacher whose name appeared in the telephone
book was called and assured her name would not be divulged. The Bulletin says:"Four of the teachers hesitated
to give their decision, until reminded no names would be used.
Then said:"Oh well, I agree with Mr.
Mallon then."The poll showed 79 percent of the high school teachers in agreement with me, 22 out of the 25
polled. Only three disagreed and three would not commit themselves.Of the 30 elementary grade teachers called, 22 were favorable
to my position, 16 unfavorable,
and nine on the fence. The BTA Bulletin comments:"In general, those who taught the lower grades were nearly unanimous in condemnation of the Mallon articles, while those who taught the higher of the elementary grades were more likely to agree with him."As a whole, 56 percent of the teachers agreed, 21 percent disagreed, while 19 percent said they were not familiar with my articles or that they were on the fence and could not say either way. In short, Wright's own teachers deny him.The BTA Bulletin published its poll under a heading:
"Classroom Teachers Uphold Mallon Criticism."It concluded:
"The ones whose actual job it is to do the work, do not think progressive education works."As this is a specific proving example of a general condition of the country, of which I was already aware through my vast mail from teachers, I will pre-

Daily Review of Activities of Those Seeking Office

(By The Associated Press)

Selection of convention delegates starts rolling down the home
stretch this week with Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York setting a fast pace for the Republican presidential field, and President Roosevelt coasting along with the Democratic nomination assured
him if he wants it.Six states will select delegates, beginning with Texas Democratic and Republican conventions tomorrow. Florida will settle its presidential contest with a runoff Democratic primary and North Carolina will pick a Democratic senatorial nominee to succeed Senator Reynolds (D), who did not choose to run.The Texas Democratic meeting,
bringing fourth-term and anti-communism into the election over the state's 48 convention votes, promises fireworks. The Republicans will pick 33 delegates, with Dewey
and Gov. W. Bricker of Ohio showing strength. Maryland and Georgia Republicans also will select delegates tomorrow. The edgewood state, if not all the 15
Maryland delegates will be for Dewey. Georgia will pick a slate of 14, with one district representative already having been served up for the New York.Dewey delegate totals as the week began were 237 pledged and claimed, with Bricker's 62 putting him in second place.In the Florida primary Tuesday, Mildred Caldwell, a former congresswoman, will battle it out with Rep. Lex Green for the Democratic nomination which usually can be turned in automatically in November for an election certificate.Wednesday will find North Dakota Republicans picking 11 delegates, who may be unimpressed.
Supporters of Lieut. Comdr. Harold E. Stassen have some hope of wedging in a delegate or two
among the majority expected to support Dewey.Connecticut Democrats will start a two-day meeting Friday,
picking a delegation that will cast
18 votes.Utah Democrats will name 10
Saturday the same day North Carolina members of the party
nominate a successor for Reynolds, pick their candidate for governor, and name choices for 12
seats in the house of representatives in a primary that will leave the November election only a formality unless it is preceded by a political earthquake.Senator Holman, (R-Ore.) defeated for the Oregon Republican senatorial nomination, refused to say last night whether he would support the successful candidate, Wayne L. Morse, former member of the War Labor Board, in the November election.

SQUAW HUNT

Chicago—Leonard Foolish Wo-

to the South Dakota prairies.The lonesome Indian asked po-

short, and with an old scar under her jaw." Mrs. Foolish Woman came to Chicago seeking a stage career, he said.

bring me my gun."

And the prisoner did just that.

Victory Gardeners
of County Invited to Enter Contests

Illinois' champion Victory Gardeners for 1944 will be selected in a statewide "green thumb" contest to be conducted by the Victory Gardens committee of the Illinois War Council, George F. Reed, chairman of the Dixon Victory Gardens committee, announced today.

The state winner in the adult division will receive a $500 war bond. Special awards also will be made to winners in local and county contests. Details of the contest are available at the Victory Gardens headquarters, in the Dixon high school, the chairman said.

A "green thumb" gardener is a person who is adept at gardening, "who could make a brown straw grow if planted," Reed said.

A similar 2-V "green thumb" contest for elementary and high school students, stressing the importance of vegetables for vitamins and vitality, also will be held. The winner in the high school division of the state contest will receive a set of the Encyclopedia Britannica. The elementary school winner will receive a set of the Junior Encyclopedia Britannica.

Prizes Made Available
Prizes for the adult and school

ment at dessert on Wednesday evening, complimentary to Mrs. Don Mills who is leaving Mount Morris to make her home in Minneapolis, Minn. She was presented with a gift as a token of best wishes from her fellow workers.

DETAIL FOR TODAY
Cosmoline

COSMOLINE is the glue-like substance in which rifles are packed. It resembles glue, but never dries. One never knows exactly what kind of a rifle he is issued until he gets the COSMOLINE off. To clean a rifle packed in COSMOLINE, it is best to remove all clothing and when the job is completed, take a hot shower. The usual procedure is for a soldier to get a gun fresh from the COSMOLINE at 2:15 p. m. and be told to have it ready for inspection by 3 p. m. This is a monumental task since it requires complete disassembling of the weapon and the cautious wiping of each individual part.

Hold Everything

"Will that be enough, Madam?"

contests have been made available through fairs contributed to the council for the purpose.

Any adult home gardener, city or farm, is eligible to enter the contest. A champion Victory Gardener in each classification of the contest will be selected in this community to enter the county contest. The county winners then will enter the competition for state champion Victory Gardener.

Each entrant will receive a contest record book, with a cover especially designed by Walt Disney, to be used for keeping a record of planting and harvesting. The record books can be obtained at Victory Gardens headquarters, Reed said.

At any time during the summer anyone may enter the contest provided a record is kept of what was planted and harvested. Record books must be submitted to county Victory Garden chairmen by Oct. 1.

Judge Evans Urges
Strike in Wartime
Be Made Criminal

Judge Evan A. Evans, senior jurist of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals in Chicago, Saturday urged immediate federal legislation providing criminal prosecution of strikers in plants producing war materials.

Judge Evans, who spoke at commencement exercises of Lake Forest college, asserted that the time has come when union promises to eschew strikes during war time must be kept.

Law Needed Now, He Says
"Federal legislation to punish all those who obstruct work in war essential industries must be enacted and enforced—now," the jurist said.

He added that the excuse offered by union leaders that a strike may not be "authorized" is unacceptable.

"In my opinion the union labor leaders who rally their members into an overpowering voting unit and then use that political power to coerce official action, are dangerous in the extreme," Judge Evans said.

"When any group gets the idea

it is bigger or stronger than our government or that it is absolutely essential to our existence, then the time has come for a showdown, war or no war."

He praised American fighting men, who, he said, have discredited a belief among other nations that our youth had grown soft through the ease of the American way of life.

"Our soldiers have proved themselves capable of standing beside any fighting man in the world, not only in modern times but in past centuries," he said.

Judge Evans struck at blind adherence to party tenets when "the national effort in time of war" is involved.

RED TAPE
New York — A government worker arrived at her building minus her badge, so her identification had to be checked.

This took 15 minutes and when she reached her office she was required to fill out a form explaining her tardiness.

Upon reaching the question, "Where did you reside during the period of your absence?" she wrote:

"In the lobby of this building."

Day By Day On the Air

by C. E. BUTTERFIELD

(Central War Time)
New York, May 22—(AP)—The Television Seminar, now under way through the guidance of the Radio Executives Club, may or may not clear the air in the present controversy over television's future quality. But in its 15 weeks there is every possibility of some lively sessions.
While the seminar does not propose to settle anything on operating standards and the like, that being up to the Federal Communications Commission with the cooperation and advice of engineers and technicians, little should have been left unsaid on any side by its close August 21.
The introduction of the series did not exactly get down into the meat of things, it not being so designated. However, Chairman James L. Fly of FCC thought "we should stop talking and get back to research" so that "a better system of television" can be developed.
Programs tonight (Monday), NBC—7 Cavalcade drama "A Ship to Remember"; 7:30 Barlow concert; 8 Voorhees concert, Helea Traubel; 8:30 Information Please; 9 Contended Concert; 9:30 Doc I. Q.; 10:30 Vox Pop; 7:30 Gay Nineties; 8 Dick Powell in "Springtime in the Rockies"; 9 Screen Guild "Up in Mabely Room"; 9:30 Maritime Day drama "BLU" — 6 Horace Heidt time; 7:30 Blind Date; 8 Counter Spy; 8:30 Russ Morgan band; 9:30 Paul Lavalle melody; MBS—6:30 Army Air Forces; 7:30 Sherlock Holmes; 8:30 Paul Winchell's Jerry; 11:30 Attilio Baggione tenor concert.

Mary's LISTENIN' POST

DIXON and the surrounding territory are lucky in this country-wide wave of juvenile delinquency in that there is no army camp near here and because laborers that were needed for the defense plants have been recruited from people with established homes in the community. The attendant evils that go with "camp followers" and migrant workers is no problem here. Much credit should go to the Stewart Warner Corporation for their recognition of the possibility of mass transient labor problems and the effort that they have put forth to avoid it.

BUT there IS a delinquency problem in Dixon, not of the court variety yet in most cases, but of that insidious type which gets a little worse all the time and which eventually reach alarmingly proportions. An amazing list of more or less serious delinquencies have floated in over the "grapevine" route to the editor of the Listenin' Post. There has been no effort to double check on any of these stories—they are given just as they were heard from reliable and varied sources. Maybe some of the details may have changed in the telling and retelling but the essential facts are undoubtedly true. Listen to some of these "not too nice" incidents from Dixon and community.

Mend, Dale Magnuson, Don Taylor, assisted by the Rev. E. V. Hallock, pastor.

The four groups of the Women's auxiliary of the Walnut Christian church met on Thursday afternoon as follows: Mrs. Lester Watkins and Mrs. George Cameron were hostesses to group one at the Watkins home, with 12 members present. "Lest We Forget" was the topic for devotions, conducted by Mrs. Clara Carlson and Mrs. Verna Role was in charge of the business meeting.

Group two met at the home of Mrs. Maggie Kruse with Mrs. Howard Peach and Mrs. Harry Magnuson assisting. Devotions were led by Mrs. Ross Palmer, her topic being "The Old Bible Speaks". Mrs. Kruse was in charge of the business and Mrs. Elmer Wright in charge of the games. Twelve members and two guests, Mrs. Henry Kruse and Mrs. R. L. Limerick, were present. Group three met at the home of Mrs. Orval White with Mrs. E. V. Hallock in charge of devotions and Mrs. Roy Brewer in charge of the business. Eleven members and one guest, Mrs. Edward O'Brien of Dixon, were present.

The members of group four were guests of Mrs. Harry Andersen and Mrs. Leonard Andersen at the Harry Andersen home with eight members present. "Worship in Song" was the topic of the devotions in charge of Miss Nellie Ross.

ANOTHER set of youngsters with a "B-B" gun as the chief weapon have been catching birds and rabbits and then instead of killing these stunned animals immediately, have been using their own back yard as a torture chamber for these defenseless creatures. According to reports shot flying through the neighborhood and the torture spectacle have brought forth neighborly protests but the youngsters have been defended by well-meaning parents.

THEN there are the two young fellows who had a couple of fourteen year old girls out long after midnight the other night. Finally the girls' parents notified the police and the outfit was rounded up. When asked where they got the gas for their car, they admitted "black market" activity.

IT SEEMS to be common knowledge around town—at least several sources have told the same story—that the Montgomery Ward shoplifting incident of a few weeks ago was hushed up for a good many of those involved. Reports have it that the leaders and the worst offenders—in other words the "brains" behind it—had doing parents who gladly paid the price, hushed the whole thing up and thus kept the names out of print, while three of the less fortunate boys took the "rap" for the whole thing.

ALSO there is a thirteen-year old girl who, so the story goes, looks after youngsters in the evening and when the employer arrives home and offers to take the girl home—she insists that she is not going home but wants to be let out down town. Absences from school and truant officer checking have elicited more of the story. It seems that both parents work and they never question the child as to what time she comes in or where she has been. In fact the mother was another one who wrote a note to the teacher in response to a home work request and said, "I'm not responsible for my youngster's study at home."

ANOTHER school adolescent a boy this time—was failing in school and he wanted very much to take part in a coming athletic event. The principal called his mother and tried to see if there was not some way the boy could be helped so that his studies would come up to the required standard. His mother replied that he worked so many nights a week. The principal said, "Yes, I know, but how about the other nights?" "Oh well," was the reply, "you know how it is, he has to go out with the 'gang' on those nights."

SO PARENTAL laxity in many cases has caused the downfall of their offspring. There are a few more of these unhappy stories which eventually society must pay for but there is also a happy side to some other stories where parents are cooperating. There is room for no more of either kind today—the rest will follow in another column.

Other Cities Are After the Law Breakers — Why Not Dixon? PARK HOTEL PROPRIETOR GUILTY OF SELLING BEER TO MINORS

After two 16-year-old girls testified to drinking beer in the Park hotel bar, Marie McNeil, hotel proprietor, was found guilty in supreme court today of selling fermented malt beverage to minors.

Judge Roy H. Proctor imposed a sentence of $50 and costs or 30 days.

The case of Walter A. O'Leary, manager of the Parkside tavern, was postponed until Tuesday at 10 a. m. O'Leary is charged with selling liquor and beer to minors and permitting minors to loiter.

Lt. Gen. Clark, Fifth Army Commander, Has Narrow Escape Sunday

On the Fifth Army Front in Italy, May 22—(AP)—Lt. Gen. Mark W. Clark, Fifth Army commander, narrowly missed being killed when a well-disguised booby trap on an abandoned German artillery piece exploded less than 25 feet from the jeep in which he was riding yesterday. The explosion critically wounded one soldier and injured several others who had been standing near the nazi anti-tank gun. Clark, who was making an inspection tour of the front, was told that someone had been tinkering with the abandoned gun. After satisfying himself that the injured men were being treated, Clark warned other soldiers nearby—some of whom had been knocked down by the blast—against tampering with abandoned enemy equipment. Then he continued his inspection.

On the Fifth Army Front in Italy, May 22—(AP)—Maj. John T. Walker of Springfield, Ill., was the pilot of a Piper Cub plane in which Lt. Gen. Mark W. Clark, Fifth Army commander, made a portion of his inspection of the Italian front yesterday.

SHARE THE RIDE TODAY

... and You Give Uncle Sam a Lift

Where would we be today if our forefathers had gone their separate ways at their own convenience? When this nation was in its infancy, neighbor gave neighbor a helping hand. That spirit expanded 13 struggling colonies into a vast, united nation.

Today our country is calling upon every one of us to enlist in a great awakening of that early American creed of helping ourselves by helping our neighbors. Sharing our automobiles is as easy as it is helpful. Wherever we go, there's somebody going our way. When we give him a lift, we give Uncle Sam a lift on the way to Victory.

It is in those moments of well-earned relaxation that a beverage of moderation proves a welcome companion. Budweiser matches your mood for a friendly chat or your mood for repose. It is consideration of tomorrow's obligations.
